

Shipping Policy

Orders are typically shipped within 1–5 business days, depending on inventory levels and order volume.

Shipping is FREE within the continental United States, unless you are a wholesale distributor.

For wholesale distributors and sales outside of the continental United States, shipping charges will be calculated at the time of order unless otherwise specified.

MIC ships using common carriers such as UPS, FedEx, or USPS, unless otherwise requested by the customer.

Delivery dates provided by MIC or the carrier are estimates only; MIC is not responsible for delays caused by carriers, weather, or other circumstances beyond our control.

Customers should inspect shipments upon arrival. Any shipping damage must be reported to MIC and the carrier immediately and noted at the time of delivery.

Shipping of warranty repairs or returns is prepaid for approved products; see Warranty, Returns & Support for more information. Shipping of repairs or returns outside of warranty to MIC is the responsibility of the Customer; return shipping to the Customer of repaired product or replacements are covered by MIC.